It’s OK not to feel OK –
Supporting you to get help if you are struggling emotionally

Last week saw the launch of the ‘OK not to feel OK’ campaign, which promotes sources of support and help to anyone struggling emotionally in Kensington and Chelsea.

The campaign is aimed at trying to reduce the stigma around mental illness and death by suicide within the community by talking more openly about this. We also want anyone in distress to feel confident to turn to someone for support and we are encouraging people to seek help before they reach crisis point.

You may have already seen posters and leaflets in and around the community and at key buildings such as health centres in North Kensington.

The campaign ‘It’s OK not to feel OK’ will focus on identifying and owning how you feel and asking for help to cope with these feelings.

We have set up a dedicated website www.oknottofeelok.org which provides lots of information on how to seek help and advice on who you can talk to if you are struggling.

The website has the numbers for the Samaritans and the NHS, both of which are free to call, confidential and set up to listen to and signpost residents to the best support.

Anyone can call the NHS number at any time 0800 0234 650 or The Samaritans on 116 123. If you can’t face talking to someone on the phone (and many people who are struggling emotionally can’t) then you can email: jo@samaritans.org

If those who are most at risk can’t reach out directly, then we hope their loved ones might find the support and help they need through this campaign.

We have already begun raising awareness of the campaign on our Facebook page www.facebook.com/oknottofeelok and promoting it on the Grenfell Support twitter page www.twitter.com/grenfellsupport.

We are now encouraging people to support and share the information on social media to ensure we reach as many people as possible. We are also asking people to spread the message and share their stories if they feel able to by using the #oknottofeelok hashtag.

We want the community to help support each other and get the message out there, so why not visit the website and find out about how you can take a picture and spread the message on Twitter, Facebook or Instagram. You can also change your profile picture on Facebook in support of this campaign.

Head over to: www.oknottofeelok.org for more information.
Date set for next Grenfell Recovery Scrutiny meeting

The next Grenfell Scrutiny Recovery Committee meeting will be held on Tuesday 24 July from 6.30pm at Kensington Town Hall.

At this meeting, which will be chaired by Cllr Robert Thompson and includes a number of newly-elected Councillors, the Committee will consider where it needs to focus its attention over the coming year and discuss several important decisions which are to be taken by the Leadership Team the following evening on Wednesday 25 July.

To ensure that the voices of those residents from Notting Dale are heard, a new Forum is to be established shortly, chaired by Notting Dale ward Councillor Robert Atkinson. It’s intended that a meeting of the Notting Dale Forum will be held prior to every Grenfell Recovery Scrutiny Committee and all residents living in Notting Dale ward are invited to attend.

Update on Lancaster West residents’ parking permits

Lancaster West Estate residents were able to use their original 2017/2018 estate parking permits until 30 June 2018.

New Estate Parking permits for 2018/2019 have now been issued by the Council. Therefore, from Monday 2 July 2018, parking bays on the Estate will be monitored as usual and Penalty Charge Notices (PCN) will be issued to anyone not displaying a valid 2018/2019 estate parking permit.

If you have not yet received your estate parking permit or would like to request visitor parking scratch cards, please either visit our office on Kensal Road, call us on 0800 137 111 or email HM-Parking@rbkc.gov.uk to make an appointment.

Rent and service charge extension

The Council has agreed to extend the rent and service charge compensation period from Saturday 30 June 2018 to Friday 31 August 2018 for residents who are living at home on the Walkways. The compensation will be 40 per cent of rent and service charges to tenants and 40 per cent of service charges to leaseholders.

Residents of Bramley House, Treadgold House and Verity Close will also continue to receive compensation equal to five per cent of rent and service charges, up to Friday 31 August 2018.

We continue to make good progress on Estate improvements. Grenfell Tower is now fully wrapped. The Council is fully committed to continue working with residents to improve the quality of housing management services across the Lancaster West Estate.

The communal boiler in Whitchurch Road has now been upgraded with permanent pipes, which will prevent further hot water and heating failure.

All improvement work to the rubbish chutes have now been carried out and the frequency of collection has been increased to three times a week. We will notify residents separately by mid-July when collections will start.

Fire safety work is ongoing across the estate.

The majority of Walkways properties now have a FD30S-rated fire door – this means that the doors are fire and smoke resistant for 30 minutes. Fire marshalls will remain on site throughout July when we will review where and when they are still required from Wednesday 1 August 2018 onwards.

We have written to tenants and leaseholders with more information.

Community fun day

London Fire Brigade provides evidence to the Grenfell Tower Public Inquiry
This week marked the start of London Fire Brigade’s contribution to the Grenfell Tower Public Inquiry. This evidence is scheduled to continue for the next three weeks. This follows the opening statements from participants in the Inquiry including the bereaved, survivors and the Council.

A full list of statements and evidence provided to the Inquiry so far can be found here: www.grenfelltowerinquiry.org.uk/hearings.

The Council’s opening statement to the Inquiry was delivered on Wednesday 6 June by James Maxwell-Scott QC, you can find it here: bit.ly/2tJTbYf
For more general information on the work of the Inquiry and recordings of the hearings to date, please visit www.grenfelltowerinquiry.org.uk.

The hearings have been an emotional time for many people and videos and images of the night of the tragedy have been shown. There is support available for all those who have been affected. For urgent emotional and wellbeing support, you can call 0800 0234 650 at any time.

Home Office announce revised immigration policy guidance for participants in the Inquiry
The Home Office has announced that relatives of victims and survivors who are core participants in the Grenfell Public Inquiry, or those called to be a witness at the Inquiry who are already in the country, will be able to extend their stay in the UK for a further six months.

Core participants are people or organisations who have applied for that status because they have a significant interest in proceedings or could be subject to scrutiny.

A core participant can be invited to participate during the Inquiry, for example by making statements or suggesting lines of questioning to be pursued. This will provide certainty for relatives who need to participate in the Inquiry’s evidence sessions.

Family members who are overseas with ‘core participant’ status, who are required to attend or are called as a witness to the Inquiry, will have their visit visas dealt with quickly and compassionately.

You can read the announcement in full here: bit.ly/2KsAK1t
